I'm Craig Adolphe and I'm hoping to represent CEIU as a delegate for the PSAC National Triennial Convention in 2027.

I've served as president, vice-president, and treasurer of local 50770 in Winnipeg while working as an integrity services investigator and more recently as president for local 50757 while working in communications.

I've also served as regional secretary, treasurer, and Young Workers representative for MB/SK, and as one of two PSAC National Indigenous Peoples' Circle representatives for the prairies.

I've been very active in local administration, helping to get multiple locals' finances in order, and doing outreach to members. I've been working with our outgoing NVP Keri D'Avignon and other local presidents to update their membership lists and help members who haven't signed a membership card through that process. I've also done grievance handling, member representation, and co-organized information pickets during the 2023 strike.

I have good relationships with many other delegates from across the union, including members of the PSAC Alliance Executive Committee, the Indigenous delegates elected at the PSAC National Equity Conferences, and other members from a variety of components and regions.

If I'm able to attend, I'd like to continue to raise issues about how PSAC handles membership lists. While we have seen improvements over the last cycle, there's still work required to address systemic problems that are preventing us from effectively organizing our members. Raising these concerns on the floor and in elections for the national leadership is important to make sure the leaders next cycle recognize it as a priority.

I'd also be comfortable speaking to the PSAC National budget and new component priorities established through resolutions at our own convention.

Thank you for your consideration!
