Michelle Gallivan – PSAC 2027 Triennial Convention Delegate Nomination

With over 26 years of union activism, I have dedicated much of my career to advocating for workers' rights, strengthening union representation, and ensuring members have a meaningful voice at every level of our union.

I currently serve as the Deputy Trustee for CEIU Newfoundland and Labrador/Nova Scotia and President of my CEIU Local. Previously, I served three years as Alternate National Vice-President for NL/NS, representing members and bringing regional concerns to the national level.

My union experience includes serving as Chair of the CEIU NL/NS Regional Women's Committee, and participating on national committees addressing mental health, occupational health and safety, equity, and human rights. I am also a trained Joint Learning Program facilitator.

I am particularly passionate about advancing equity, and creating a union where every member feels included, respected, and heard.

Throughout my activism, I have worked to strengthen locals, mentor emerging leaders, support collective bargaining, promote member engagement, and advocate for accountability and transparency within our union.

I believe strong unions are built from the membership up. Leadership means listening, showing up, challenging decisions when necessary, and never losing sight of the members we represent.

I am seeking your support to attend the 2027 PSAC Triennial Convention as a delegate, where I will bring experience, an independent voice, and a commitment to making decisions that strengthen our union and protect the rights of all members.

Experience. Accountability. A Strong Voice for Members.
